

HEMINGWAY A CANDIDATE NOW

Rock County School Superintendent Would Become Head Of State Teachers' Association.

REV. R. C. DENISON GIVES ADDRESS

Four Thousand Teachers From All Parts Of The State Hear Janesville Divine In A Most Able Address This Morning.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 12.—The Cream City has capitulated to a small army of teachers who have journeyed hither from every county of the state to do their share toward making this year's meeting of the Wisconsin Teachers' association the most noteworthy in its history. The attendance is unusually large and representative. The general sessions of the convention are to be held in the Hippodrome and the Davidson theatre, while a dozen churches and halls are being used for the sectional conferences.

C. H. Hemingway, county school superintendent for Rock county, is one of the most prominent candidates for president of the association to succeed H. C. Hull, present president, also of Janesville. Mr. Hemingway became a candidate last evening and there is every prospect he will be chosen. Hard work is being done in his behalf.

At the first of the general sessions this morning there were addresses on "Great Ways of Learning," by John A. H. Kitch, president of the Oaklawn Normal school; "The Teacher and the State," by Rev. R. C. Denison of Janesville; and "The Education of the Disposition," by President William L. Bryan of the University of Indiana.

"History has proven that the clerical ought not to be trusted with the nation's education." This was the statement of the Rev. R. C. Denison of the Congregational church of Janesville before the general session of the Wisconsin Teachers' association this morning. He also said: "We must allow this fact that no education is complete, no education serves the state, no education has really any right to the sacred name of education which does not admit that the principal point of education is to purify and widen the moral vision and develop the moral strength and establish the right line of thought in the soul of the growing citizen and teach that justice is the right thing in this country."

"Perhaps the gravest single danger which could threaten America would be the feeling in the minds of many that justice prevail and justice does not triumph. The poor man looks at his wages—$8 or $10 in his weekly envelope—he has worked hard for it—then he looks at the immense wealth of an unscrupulous party and says he is unjustly treated."

Four thousand school teachers were in attendance at the opening.

In addition to the educators named the prominent speakers at the convention will include L. D. Harvey of the Stout Manual Training schools, Menomonie; Dr. Luther H. Gulick, president of the National Playground association; Dean E. A. Birge of the University of Wisconsin, State Superintendent C. P. Cary of Wisconsin, Dr. John P. Woodhull of Columbus university, State Superintendent J. W. Olson of Minnesota, and County Superintendent Charles H. Hemingsway of Janesville.

MINNESOTA TEACHERS WILL SOON PICK OUT PRESIDENT'S TURKEY

Southeastern Minnesota Educational Association Opens Meetings.

A special reception committee is meeting every train and guiding teachers to stopping places.

The program arranged for the gathering covers three days and carries out practical points on instruction in every field in which teachers are interested. Moral training in the public schools and overcrowding of the course of study are the two leading topics scheduled for discussion. Foremost among the speakers who will address the convention are Dr. John Lloyd Jones of Chicago and Miss Mabel Carney, a noted rural school expert from Macomb, Ill.

HORACE VOSE, THE TURKEY MAN OF RHODE ISLAND, HAS FURNISHED BIRDS FOR YEARS.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Providence, R. I., Nov. 12.—On Thanksgiving as usual a mammoth Rhode Island turkey is to grace the holiday table at the White House. And as usual the turkey in all probability will come from Connecticut. Most of the Rhode Island turkeys now come from a Nutmeg State, just as most of the best accepted substitutes for the Rhode Island bird, now come from Kentucky.

Horace Vose of Westerly, this state, known all over the country as the Thanksgiving provider for the President—who has furnished the turkey to every President from Grant to Roosevelt—is on the alert for the best bird reared in this section of New England for the Thanksgiving dinner of the Roosevelt family. As this is to be Mr. Roosevelt's last Thanksgiving in the White House Mr. Vose says he hopes to be able to send him a bird that will be a record-breaker both as regards size and fine flavor. Mr. Vose has been looking over the flocks, but as yet is undecided as to what particular turkey will be sent to the President.

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM HAS COMPLETED IMPROVEMENTS

Officials And Engineers Gather In Detroit For Opening Of New Tunnel.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12.—Many prominent railway men, promoters and civil engineers of the United States and Canada gathered in this city today to take part in a celebration arranged by the Grand Trunk Railway to mark the formal taking over of the tunnel under the Detroit river, the electrification of which was recently completed. The tunnel extends from Sarnia, Ont., to Port Huron, Mich., and it was at the latter point that the ceremonies of the day took place.

The electrification of the tunnel case the company upwards of $1,000,000. The work, however, was but a small part of the gigantic task of reconstructing and standardizing the entire Grand Trunk Railway system, which began ten years ago and has now been completed. To put the Grand Trunk in a position to take its place among the great trunk lines of the East, the company has expended during these ten years a sum approximating $55,000,000. In the rebuilding of the road a total of 609 additional miles of double track have been constructed at a cost of $15,000,000, which is an increase in mileage of 140 per cent, and which gives the system a total double-track mileage of 1,534 miles. The cost of new rails was nearly $13,000,000. Nearly $8,000,000 was spent in renewing and strengthening bridges, including nearly $2,000,000 expended upon the great Victoria bridge. Nearly $13,000,000 was spent in buying new freight cars, more than $6,000,000 in purchasing locomotives, and nearly $2,000,000 in providing new passenger equipment.

COMMITTEES MADE IS CHARGED WITH THEFT OF A COAT

County Board Will Probably Meet All Day Tomorrow.

DID NOT FINISH TODAY

County Aid Voted to Ten Blind Persons—Other Committees Gave Reports.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the county board following the reading of the report of the supervisor of assessments by P. F. Hurst, the petition of J. C. McGowan to lay water taxes across Merchants' Row in Milan was referred to committee No. 6. Bids for the deposit of the county money were referred to committee No. 4. On motion of Supervisor Livermore the committee on the bonds of newly elected county officers was directed to confer with the district attorney as to the amount of the treasurer's bond.

The board then adjourned until 10:30 this morning.

Earl Herrick Was Arrested at Daisy Cosgrove's Farm This Morning—Michael Mulcaire Behind the Bars.

Constable Dulin visited Daisy Cosgrove's farm north of the city this morning and took Earl Herrick into custody on the charge of stealing an overcoat belonging to Henry O'Rourke at the Union House last Tuesday. When the officer asked for the coat, Herrick pointed to a nail and said: "There it is, I just borrowed it of O'Rourke and was going to take it back today." According to his story he had permission to take the garment and another boarder at the Union House helped him put it on in full view of the owner. The latter, however, claims he gave no such permission and was in the bar-room at the time. Herrick pleaded not guilty to the charge of petit larceny and his examination was set for Saturday. He was unable to furnish $200 bail bonds and was committed to the county jail pending his hearing.

Ten Days for Mulcaire.

On complaint of his sister, Michael Mulcaire was brought into court this afternoon to answer to the charge of applying obscene and abusive epithets to her and her mother when they refused to let him into their home last evening. "Two faced devil" is alleged to have been the most objectionable of those "bad names." Mulcaire was forbidden some weeks ago by an order of the court to visit this house under any circumstances, whether drunk or sober, and he is said to have been very drunk last evening. On his plea of guilty the court sentenced him to spend ten days behind the bars.

SCHOOL QUESTIONS

A meeting of the board of the second superintendent's district was held this morning previous to the time the county board was called to order, but as all the members were not present it was decided to bring the matter on before the county board. It was called to order this morning by Vice-Chairman Woodruff. Chairman Gatto being busy with a jury trial in the circuit court. Supervisor J. H. Jones of committee No. 5 presented a resolution from Superintendent Antkled asking for an appropriation of $200 for hire of a deputy. Mr. Antkled explained this request by saying that the recent legislation on school matters had put so much more clerical work on the shoulders of the superintendent that it was necessary for him to have an assistant. The resolution was favorably voted upon by the members from the second district and also by the county board. A second resolution was then presented asking for the purchase of a $25 machine to heat the heating and ventilating plants in the rural schools. Under the law relating to state aid for schools a proper heating and ventilating plant is necessary to obtain the $50 a year for three years. Superintendent Antkled said that it was impossible to make a proper test without the machine asked for. Supervisor S. G. Jones then addressed the board, saying that he felt strongly that it was the duty of the county to call a halt on the spending of county money for such things. He said that the state officials seemed to take pleasure in getting laws passed requiring the county to spend money for things which he could not care did any good. Mr. Jones characterized the purchase of such machines as a graft and closed by remarking that when he went to school the ventilating of schools was accomplished by a shingle applied where it would do the most good. The resolution was carried by the members of the board from the second district by a vote of seven to five and by the county board by a vote of 21 to 9.

SWITCH ENGINE RAN INTO EXTRA TRAIN

Night Switch Engine on the Northwestern Road Ran Into an Extra Freight Train on the Same Road.

Last evening about nine o'clock, the Northwestern road's night switch engine was coming up along the old main track, proceeding toward the Five Points and the freight train was passing along the Afton cut-off. Just at the switch which connects the two tracks the switch engine bumped into the train, throwing three freight cars from the track and badly damaging them and smashing the footboard and bumper beam and breaking the front of the boiler of the engine. The study of the steam chest of the switch engine was also torn off. The wrecking crew was summoned from the now yards, and the work of clearing the track was commenced and was finished in time to allow train number 609 which arrives here at 12:40 a. m. to pass over the line. Another train, 503, to Madison, had to go around by way of Afton. The switching crew stated that they did not see the other train and that the conductor of the freight train had no flagman out to stop them. Neil Cronin was the switchman in charge, John O'Brien was his helper and the engine was run by Engineer J. Coon and Fireman W. Smith.

REV. CLYDE M'GEE RECEIVES A CALL

Rockford Congregational Church Calls Pastor of Clinton.

Clinton, November 12.—Rev. Clyde McGee, who for the past three years has been pastor of the Congregational church at Clinton, this morning received a unanimous call from the Congregational church at Rockford. The vote was taken at last night's meeting of the Rockford church and Rev. Mr. McGee was notified this morning.

It is doubtful whether Mr. McGee will accept this call. The Rockford church extending the call is not the largest church of that denomination in that city, but it is a strong flourishing church.

AEROPLANE THAT IS A REVELATIONWILL REVOLUTIONIZE AERIAL
NAVIGATION IN NEAR FUTURE.

CANNOT BE TIPPED OVER

D. W. Driscoll, Who Conducted the Gazette Voting Contest, is an Inventor of New System of Flying.

Aerial navigation is a problem that the scientific men of this country and Europe have tried to solve for centuries. It has been the dream of possibilities for many years, but only until recently have any really successful flying machines been made. The Wright Brothers and Count Zeppelin are among the most noted of the inventors, although many others have made successful experiments.

D. W. Driscoll, who recently conducted the voting contest for the Gazette, has invented an aeroplane that promises to revolutionize aerial navigation. Letters of patent are now being sought on important principles which, according to prominent scientists who have examined into them, do away with the dangers of accidents while in air, prevent the aeroplane capsizing and make a descent to the earth easy and gentle should the machinery stop from any cause.

In speaking of his aeroplane, Mr. Driscoll said: "My airplane will differ from any of those now in use. It has many essential points common with others but now ones which will revolutionize aerial navigation. One of the prominent features is the do-aways with fans and screw propellers. I have none of those on my machine and get around their use in a most simple manner. Another feature that is important is that I can stop at any height by an arrangement of automatic balances and then settle down to the ground as easily and slowly as required.

"There is no possibility of the aeroplane tipping. This danger is entirely done away with by my construction and done away with one of the worst features of the present machines. It will be impossible to tip my machine over, no matter how hard the wind blows or what accidents occur to the machinery.

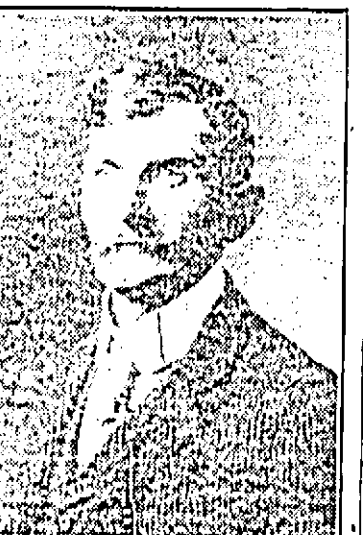

"Thus far I have planned upon a five-passenger car. This is not as wide or as long as others. Twelve thousand two hundred and sixty-five square feet of canvas are used to carry this car, and I allow two pounds to the square foot of canvas, although three and a half pounds is the usual lifting power. Taking five passengers at 175 pounds each and 1,100 for the weight of the machine it gives me the rest of the capacity for gasoline.

"Our motive power is a gasoline engine and I am having one especially built on new lines for me in St. Louis. This engine does not need the water-cooling attachment as the piston rod is stationary and the cylinders revolve about it fast enough to cool themselves. This is a great saving in space and weight for the machine and permits me to carry just so much more gasoline.

"I have the same method as the Wrights for raising my air boat from the ground, but have no rudder to steer by and the whole secret of the workings of the machine itself are what are covered by my inventions, which I hope to get patented within a few days. In fact, the drawings and models are now in the hands of a noted scientific magazine to be presented to the patent office at Washington probably this month."

Mr. Driscoll had with him a model of the aeroplane as it will look when completed, a miniature affair that showed the simple, but effective, means with which he hopes to conquer the air. He has worked upon his plans and models for six years and now believes them nearly perfect. Present plans are for the construction of a large model with which to make flights near St. Louis to thoroughly test its capabilities. If successful a company will be organized to manufacture them as a commercial commodity. Their cost will be in the neighborhood of $2,000 and up, according to the materials and finishing, putting them onto the market just as automobiles are now. When his letters of patent have been received Mr. Driscoll has promised the Gazette a photograph of his invention and a full description of its workings.

WILL PERMIT PURE
FEMALE VOICES NOW

The Pope Gives Ruling That Will Delight Catholics the World Over.

Janesville Catholics will be glad to learn that female voices will, after all, be permitted in the Catholic church choirs.

This is the news imparted by The Caccia, published at St. Francis. It is considered by Catholic clergymen as the most important information obtained for many months.

The rule announced some time ago by the pope, that women should be barred from the church choirs, is being rigidly enforced in some of the dioceses and is causing a great deal of anxiety among leaders of the choirs, who find it difficult to maintain them.

The Teacher and Organist, a Catholic publication, discussing the news in The Caccia, says:

"The Caccia brings a bit of news welcomed by all organists and choir-masters. The removal of the female singer from our church choirs has certainly caused a great deal of worry and heartache for the choir-masters. His 'stability' in most cases have been the 'ladies of the choir'.

"Female voices are ever so much easier to obtain than male voices. Furthermore, the attendance at rehearsals and services on the part of the ladies was far better than that of the men. The 'staying qualities' in the former, all choir-masters know, are almost a virtue with them. All of a sudden the ladies were requested to leave.

"Now, according to The Caccia, our lady father in an audience granted Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee, said the female singers may be retained, provided they give no scandal in their behavior, sing with a pious heart and according to the wish of the church."

ALL OUT OF SORTS.

Has Any Janesville Person Never Felt That Way?

Feel all out of sorts?
Tired, blue, irritable, Nervous?
Back feel lame and aching?
That's the story of sick kidneys—bad blood circulating about the body. Just one way to feel right again, cure the sluggish kidneys.
It is with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have cured many Janesville people.
Here's one case.
C. F. Lester, living at 1017 Wheeler St., Janesville, Wis., says: "I did not feel well for several months prior to the time I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. My whole system seemed to be filled with uric poison. I ached all over and felt miserable. I had but little strength or energy and my kidneys did not act in their natural way. I decided to try a tonic for my kidneys and having often heard of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured them from the People's Drug Co. I felt better in a short time and am going to continue using the remedy, believing I will be eventually cured. I have no hesitancy in saying that I believe Doan's Kidney Pills to be an excellent remedy for kidney trouble."

Will Show Motive

Mrs. Guinness' Letters Tell of Lamphere's Jealousy.

WRITTEN TO A. K. HELGELEIN

Brother of Woman's Last Victim Arrives in Laporte from South Dakota to Testify for State in the Murder Trial.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 12.—A. K. Helgelein of Aberdeen, S. D., arrived here Wednesday night and will be an important witness for the state in the Lamphere trial. His brother, Andrew Helgelein, was the last victim of Mrs. Guinness and while he was trying to find traces of Andrew the woman wrote him a number of letters that Prosecutor Smith relies on to establish his theory that the motive of Lamphere's alleged crime was jealousy.

Mrs. Guinness claimed the brother, after visiting her, had gone to Norway on a trip. At the time she wrote, his dismembered body lay in her private cemetery, where she had buried it after securing the $3,000 which he had drawn from his Aberdeen bank through a Laporte bank.

Letters Tell of Lamphere.

These letters were all written in Norwegian, for Mrs. Guinness could not write English, and in them are many references to Lamphere, of his threats against her and her children, and of Lamphere's jealousy because Andrew Helgelein had been a guest at her home. She refers to Lamphere as "that crazy Lamphere" and "that jealous Lamphere." It is considered by the state that in the letters of Mrs. Guinness to A. K. Helgelein it has evidence of the strongest possible moment to support the theory that Lamphere, jealous of Helgelein's attentions and angered because he thought that he had been supplanted in the affections of the widow, assisted the widow in putting Helgelein out of the way and that afterward, to become revenged upon her, he set fire to her house.

Jury Nearly Complete.

With ten jurors tentatively accepted by both the state and the defense, court adjourned Wednesday afternoon in order that a fourth special panel of 25 veniremen could be summoned. That the remaining two jurors would be obtained Thursday was expected by both sides, and in anticipation thereof the attorneys were busy thing things up for the introduction of evidence.

Following the swearing of the jury, Prosecutor Smith will make the opening statement, in which he will outline the case and tell what the state expects to prove. That the defense will reserve its statement until after the state's evidence is expected.

MRS. OSBORN PASSES AWAY.

Gained Fame as Modiste After Being Prominent in Society.

New York, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Josephine Nelson Osborn, once prominent in New York society, but more widely known as the modiste of the women of New York's "Four Hundred," died Wednesday.

Before her marriage Mrs. Osborn was Miss Josephine Nelson, a granddaughter of Col. James Nelson of revolutionary fame. She married Robert Osborn, a prominent New Yorker, and for some years was counted among the social leaders of the "smart set."

After her divorce from Mr. Osborn she opened a dressmaking establishment.

"LABOR" DINNER UNOFFICIAL.

Statement Issued from White House to Quiet Discussion.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The discussion which has arisen over the dinner which President Roosevelt is to give in the White House next Tuesday to a number of labor leaders brought forth from the executive office of the president Wednesday an official statement pointing out that the dinner is not an official one and declining to discuss the inclusion of President Gompers, Vice-President O'Connell, Secretary Morrison and Treasurer Lannon of the American Federation of Labor from the guest list.

End of Famous Building Coming.

New York, Nov. 12.—Audison Square garden, probably the largest and most widely-known building in the country devoted exclusively to public entertainments, is likely to be lost to the city as a public amusement place. The stockholders of the company which controlled the garden decided at a meeting held Wednesday to place the entire block occupied by the big building on the market.

Alleged Embezzler Returning.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 12.—From a reliable source it was learned Wednesday that Richard H. Owen, Jr., former city clerk of Mobile, against whom indictments are pending charging embezzlement of $30,000 of the city's funds, is voluntarily returning to answer the indictments.

It is said he will be a passenger on the steamer Bolzo to arrive here next Tuesday from Belize, British Honduras.

Two Lake Steamers Ordered.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12.—C. M. Heald of Buffalo, president of the Mutual Transit Company, has ordered of the Great Lakes Engineering works of this city two package freight steamers 350 feet long, and together containing $500,000, to be completed for the opening of navigation in 1909.

Noted Lawyer Found Dead.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Silas W. Pettit, one of the best-known corporation and constitutional lawyers in the country, was found dead in his office in this city Wednesday night. He was seated at his desk and had been stricken while in the act of writing a letter.

RATIONAL CURE FOR ECZEMA.

No More Dosing the Stomach—Cure the Skin Through the Skin.

When you have a scratch on your hand you wash it out and cleanse it and then the skin cures itself. You do not take blood medicine to cure a festering wound.

The best skin specialists today are agreed that the only way to cure the skin is through the skin.

The fact that eczema is a skin disease and not a blood disease is evident from statistics which show that nearly all eczema sufferers are perfectly healthy in all other ways except as to their skin. If the eczema patients were really suffering from an inward malady, the entire body and not only the skin would be diseased.

You can prove immediately the relief of a true skin cure by using all of whatogreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription.

This liquid attacks the disease germs, numbing them while building up the healthy tissue of the skin. We have now handled this meritorious and thoroughly scientific remedy for so long and have seen its reliable result so many times that we freely express our confidence.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST
Fair and continued cool tonight and Friday.

JUST PLAIN COMMON SENSE

"Mr. Taft's election was brought about very largely by the support of businessmen, whose determination to back him was the logical and inevitable result of a careful study of the situation and a comparison of candidates and what they stood for," says the Wall Street Journal.

"There grew upon the intelligence of the hundreds of thousands of businessmen, who constitute the balance of power between the two great parties, that under one candidate there should ensue an era of tranquility with progress during which solvent interests might make contracts for a reasonable time ahead without Lloyd's insurance against preventable earthquake or calamity."

"The business interests therefore put themselves behind the Taft campaign and became the chief instrumentality for his election as well as for the preservation of a safe harmonious majority in congress."

"In successful effort to the appeals of the authorized leaders of organized labor they made it apparent to the mass of wage earners that the real welfare of the hearth and home was in mutual action between the man behind the payroll and the man on the payroll, rather than in encouraging academic experiments in politics for ultimate millennial conditions. It looked like a chink between real corn and cabbage for the wife and children today and tomorrow and possible canvasback duck and terrapin after realization of rainbow dreams."

"It now remains for capital to show confidence in the status of affairs and get intelligently busy. The material and the workers are here, the element of doubt and uncertainty has been removed and there exists no sound reason why activities should not be resumed on a normal basis without further loss of time."

"The businessmen of the country, while largely in the minority, were practically a unit in the last election. Even in the south, where party lines are closely drawn, Taft had many supporters among this class of men."

"President Van Cleve of St. Louis, who is at the head of the National Manufacturers' association, has been busily engaged for the past year in efforts to unite the business interests in support of the republican administration."

"The arguments used were non-political and non-partisan. He believed that Bryan would be nominated, and regarded Bryanism as a menace to public welfare. The businessmen of the country are evenly divided between the two great parties, but the democratic contingency has never taken kindly to Bryan. They forsook him on the free silver issue, and he has never regained their confidence. The following comments from the southern press are significant:

"It must be admitted that under republican rule, with the exception of the past year, the country has enjoyed great prosperity. This prosperity the republicans stand pledged to restore, quickly and fully. If this be done, the whole country will have reason to be abundantly satisfied."—Augusta Herald.

dence. Businessmen believe that William Howard Taft is a safe, sound man, not given to outbursts, but wholly controlled by a sense of duty and a profound knowledge of law. This is why they in all parts of the country, even in the south, voted for Mr. Taft regardless of party lines. It is this that created the Taft landslide."—Birmingham (Ala.) Age-Herald.

"The contest is over, and the American people have announced their choice for president at the ballot box. It now remains for them to give their aid to the administration at Washington with a view of making it successful in its influence upon the country's business interest. Let every citizen who has at heart the progress and welfare of the nation contribute his energy and influence to the improvement of business."—Birmingham (Ala.) News.

THE RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE
The efficient mail service which the country enjoys is largely due to the intelligent and untiring work of a little army of postal clerks connected with the railway mail service. Now efficient this service is, as well described in a little circular just issued by the Railway Mail Commission.

There are 15,000 men employed in this service and everyone an expert. Four years of constant study by way of preparation and then a lifetime of study to keep pace with changed conditions, are the requirements.

"Now about the efficiency of the service; 90 per cent of the mail matter originating in this country and a very large amount (millions of pieces) from foreign countries is handled in railway mail cars by railway postal clerks with one error to each 18,000 pieces handled—18,000 specific acts with one error, and many of these errors mean but a few minutes, or possibly no delay to the letter or paper. Our examinations show an average of nearly 99 per cent correct all over the country, and in some divisions they have not been below that figure in the last fifteen years; and we are examined on upward of 3,000 post-offices annually, also upon the postal laws and regulations."

"Railway postal clerks are divided into nine classes, with annual salaries ranging from $800 to $1,600, and the average salary is at present $1,152. We are required to pay out of this our expenses on the road, which, economically as we may, amounts to about $150 annually, leaving net salary around $1,000."

An effort was made at the last session of congress, to secure an appropriation covering the expenses of these men while away from home. This effort was endorsed by the second postmaster general and will be renewed when congress convenes.

The association appeals to the businessmen of the country to use their influence to help them out, and the appeal is worthy of recognition. The expenses of government employees, in many other departments, are paid by the government and there is no reason why the mail clerks should be made an exception to the rule.

It is the one department where expert knowledge is necessary to intelligent service, and where men wear out long before their time. Like many other government jobs, the knowledge acquired is of no earthly use in any other line of business, and this little army of 15,000 men is facing old age without a competency and with no means of visible support when they retire.

To be sure, a pension may be provided, but a pension suggests charity, which is always humiliating. Better by far to pay the men fair salaries, and give them a chance to create their own pension. The bill for expenses should be allowed.

BYRON HEARD FROM
After ten days of silence Byron comes to the surface as serene as a May morning. He is back at his desk in the office of the Commissioner, and ready for anything that may turn up. While deploring his defeat he believes that the right will finally triumph and proposes to devote his time and energies to advancing the interests of a righteous cause.

His friends are advised not to worry about him, as he will manage to worry along without office as in the past. While saying nothing about his own plans for the future, he is evidently in a receptive mood, willing to leave himself in the hands of his friends for the next two years at least.

In the meantime Governor Johnson of Minnesota is waiting for the Nebraska stateman to get in or out of the way. If he decides to hold the office of dictator, Johnson will have sword and keep still, but if he takes himself out of the way, the Minnesota Swedes will jump into the arena with both feet and there will be something doing.

While these great events are regulating themselves, the country will manage to jog along under the direction of the newly-elected president, and both Bryan and Johnson will share in the general prosperity.

HAVE STARTED WORK ON SECOND SURVEY

Chief Engineer Ellis of the Cincinnati Construction Company Gets Down to Work.

Chief Engineer Joseph Ellis of the Cincinnati Construction Company, that is planning to build an interurban between this city and Madison, has begun his second survey between this city and Madison and is already several miles up the river with his crew. The work will be completed before the snow flies and according to Mr. Ellis will be started shortly to comply with the requirements of the state railway commission when they make their application for a franchise. If it is granted, the company will be expected here from Cincinnati the latter part of this week and will proceed to Madison to confer with the committee of the Forty Thousand Club of that city who have taken up the entrance into the Capital City as their share of promoting the road. It is probable that arrangements will be made to enter over the line of the Montgomery roads and this will do away with any serious objections that might be raised for entering the city. It is expected now that the franchise will be granted and the work of construction started in 1909.

CHANGE IN NAME OF THE PROPOSED ROAD

Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota Railway Company Now the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary Co.

On November first the name and ownership of the Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota railway company was changed to the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary company. This is the railroad that has been talked of as a possible adjunct to the freight roads coming into Janesville. It is now built from Monmouth Illinois to Rockford and the surveys of the proposed additions are from Rockford to Milwaukee, passing through Beloit and a few miles south of Janesville, Johnston Center, through Valparaiso, County Center, and Racine, and part of Waukegan and into Milwaukee. The other extension will be from Monmouth to Gary Indiana. Several Janesville businessmen have had the question of the road coming to Janesville under discussion with officials of the road and if the extension is made it is possible that Janesville will be included on the route. The road dropped all plans of building last year but it is understood that several large financial interests now have control of the stock and will push it to completion very soon.

AUTO PLANT STILL HAS ITS ROOF-TREE

C. & N. W. Ry. Co. Restrained by Injunction From Further Dismantling Owen Thomas Factory.

Armed with an injunctive writ restraining the parties of the second part from further dismantling operations, Owen Thomas, Sheriff J. U. Fisher, and Attorney Louis Avery were transported in an automobile, at six o'clock this morning, to the Owen Thomas Motor Co. plant, where they quickly put an end to the C. & N. W. Ry. Co.'s efforts to convert Janesville's new auto factory into the an unwieldy, useless, open-air institution. Some time ago the Owen Thomas Co. leased for a period of one year the red machine shop in the old cotton yards. Recently the railroad authorities decided to tear down their buildings and this week Foreman Rordan and his crew began their attack on the machine shop. Mr. Thomas' remonstrances fell on deaf ears and one whole side of the building had been torn out before the interference of the courts could be invoked. Mr. Rordan, the foreman, was much impressed when he saw his name in the courts' writ this morning. "Come off of there—I've got an injunction on you!" he shouted to the crew who had already joyfully resumed their vandalic labors.

A FLOWER FOR BABY'S GRAVE.

This is a true story of what happened in Prospect Hill cemetery at Omaha, Neb.:

Two boys, just average American boys, were strolling through the cemetery. Many of the graves were decorated with flowers.

In that walk the lads came across a small grave that had no flowers on it. The younger boy, aged about seven years, stopped and looked at the grave. He turned about to see if any one was near. The coast seemed clear. He crept over to a nearby mound that was almost covered with fine blossoms.

Telling his companion to keep watch, the little fellow selected several bouquets from the well decorated grave. He crept the flowers under his jacket, he crept to the neglected little mound and gently and lovingly bestowed them upon the tiny grave.

The two little fellows walked quietly away, speaking no word to each other until they reached the street.

Then the younger said, "That wasn't stealin', was it?"

"Course it wasn't," responded the other. "Don't you think that little baby had just as much right to flowers on its grave as some of those old folks?"

Aye, boy, why not?

Somebody had forgotten baby's grave. That was no reason why a boy should stand by and allow it. That was no reason why the tender feelings of two boys should be hurt.

Benches on their heads—and hearted. They felt the reproach caused by the neglect of the baby's friends. They removed the reproach and repaired the neglect by taking a few flowers that would not be missed.

Trust the sweet, tender instinct of a right thinking lad to do justice and love mercy.

IT WAS NOT STEALING.
I don't care what the law or book-learned books in the law library have to say about what the boys did.

Or—
If you must stick to your definitions of petty larceny and the letter of the law, why—

LET'S PUT IT ALONG WITH UNCLE TOM'S SLIP. YOU KNOW WHAT HAPPENED—THE RECORDING ANGEL DROPPED A TEAR UPON IT AND BLOTTED IT OUT FOREVER.

There is no style in Coffees

---It is judged by its flavor.

Possibly coffee has been sold to you because the berry looked exceedingly nice, or because the berries were uniform in size, or for some other reason pertaining to the looks of the berry. Notwithstanding all statements to the contrary, this is a wrong basis upon which to judge coffee. Experts in the coffee business judge coffee by its "Cup Quality," which means the quality of the coffee in the cup ready to serve.

That is the way Golden Blend is bought and blended. I never claimed style for Golden Blend. It has not got style, and it don't need style to be good. With any housewife in Janesville, her coffee is either good or bad according to its taste. Nine-tenths of all the people like about the same standard of coffee. That standard of coffee is exactly what Golden Blend was made to be. That it is a success is attested to by the fact that twenty per cent of my present customers have used it for the past six years, and that at least one-fourth of all the homes in Janesville use Golden Blend.

While I sit here preparing this ad., Mrs. Blank's little girl is at the counter buying Golden Blend, which is to be shipped to Mrs. Smith, who now lives in Milwaukee. (I will furnish the right names to anybody interested, upon request.) Mrs. Smith used to live in Janesville and tried Golden Blend Coffee. When she moved away she could not find a coffee that suited her, even if she paid 10c more per pound, so she has asked Mrs. Blank to send it to her.

Golden Blend is all we claim for it and more, and is a coffee that Golden Blend is equal at the price.

Call me up today.

CONSUMPTION AND DENTISTRY.

It is the general accepted belief among professional medical men that consumption comes from infections through the stomach as much as from the lungs.

We are continually breathing in millions of disease germs.

If teeth are decayed, these germs lodge in the decayed spots and multiply by the thousands. They then pour into the stomach and multiply still faster.

This is true not only of the tubercular germs, but of all other disease germs and it is well to see that your teeth are in good shape so as to prevent sickness.

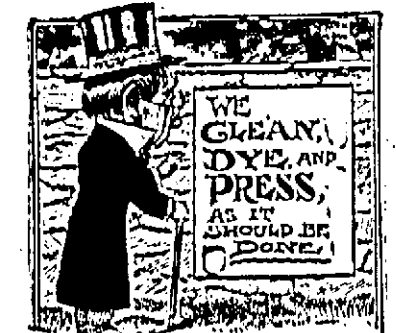

The teeth are of great importance to your health—possibly more than you ever thought.

It's a long story, but I will be glad to have you call for a pleasant visit at any time and talk over the subject with me.

You need not feel obligated to have the work done at once.

Juneville Daily Gazette, Nov. 12, 1868.—At it Again.—Adam Wilson, who was burned out a few weeks since, has commenced work in his new shop. But two of the three stories are up and of course it is roofless, but the shop is in full blast on the first floor.

All Souls' Meeting.—The All Souls' literary and Scientific Association held its first session for this winter at the church drawing rooms on Court street. Judge A. Fakir Of Vishnu.—The Fakir of Vishnu will give his entertainment here this evening. He is well spoken of in the towns in which he has given his entertainment.

The Alabama Affair.—New York, Nov. 12.—The commission which is to be chosen in case the affair is decided for the Americans will consist of two members chosen by each country, who will jointly choose a fifth man to act as President. The duties of the commission shall be to examine separately each claim of the two governments. At the suggestion of our minister, Mr. Johnson, the commission will meet in London, because, he says, most of the evidence will be found there. The statement that a European monarch, meaning King William of Prussia, would be chosen to act as arbitrator and that the United States have decided not to press the question of the right of England to reorganize the rebellion are manifestly correct. It is stated on good authority that the governments will jointly select an arbitrator and that the question of recognition will form the principal subject of the arbitration. The character of these relations has caused considerable dissatisfaction among influential citizens, representing these Englishmen as friendly to the American loyal during the war. One reason it is said that the states have been using Minister Johnson for political purposes, and on the other that the rebels have been using the forces for their own purposes.

Wall Street Depressed.—On Tuesday afternoon, the financial condition of Wall street was depressed.

The Erie canal men are rejoicing over the good fall weather. It gives them opportunity to rapidly push freight forward. The canal is in excellent condition.

Royalist Feeling in Spain.—Many of the postage stamps that have recently arrived in Paris on letters from Spain have had the Queen's head punched out of them, so that Her Catholic Majesty will soon be out of print as well as out of place.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES.

"A Stubborn Cinderella"

There is a magnetism and an intelligence about the performance of Mr. Mason, who plays "Mac," a college boy prince who wins and wins the Cinderella of that most captivated and delightful of musical comedies, "A Stubborn Ciderella," which is hard to resist. His sincerity in the serious moments developed through his love affair with Cinderella is unquestioned. But on the other hand, his comedy is equally earnest and equally capable. The sentiment of clean-mindedness of the impregnated instinct of decency and taste which is embodied among the young college boys and girls who are the heroes and heroines of the play is shown most attractively by this instance.

tation with the heroine, a Scotch young lady of little but little experience in the ways of the world, so he tells her the story of Cinderella and the fairy prince who disappears at the stroke of twelve, leaving her with only the memory of her happy dream. The scene at which this takes place is by an open fire in the midst of a big desert of the far southwest, mid, with its realistic settings and its open fire, together with Mr. Mason's boyish earnestness, his costume of knee breeches, long curls and broadcud, and wallet of Wattem Shepherdess, form a combination which is not only unique, but far above anything else ever offered in musical comedy.

"A Stubborn Cinderella" will be presented at the Myers theatre to-

Drive Whiskey From Your Home

You can have your choice; you must either drive liquor from your home, or IT will surely drive you out.

Plain talk, but it's true; alcohol in any form is a poison. It destroys man's will-power, at the same time ruins his nerves and stomach. Unfortunately he invariably is of the belief that it does not hurt him, as he says he feels better after taking a drink. He honestly thinks it braces him up, but the truth is, it only numbs his mind and weakens his nerve and muscle forces. As soon as the effect of the drink wears off he is worse than before. He must have your help at this time. Scolding, pleading or praying will not cure the diseased mind and nerves. WHITE RIBBON REMEDY WILL! It will build him up, make him eat and sleep better and entirely remove his desire for liquor.

HELLER FAKIRS' FOE PURE AND SIMPLE

Roosevelt's African Aide is in Perfect Accord with Him Regarding Game and Their Habits—

Noted Zoologist.

Edmund Heller, nephew of C. G. Schott of this city and who visited his uncle last summer, is named by competent authorities as just the man to accompany President Roosevelt on his African trip. He is said to be in hearty accord with the President's views on nature fairs and has done considerable globe-trotting himself.

Mr. Heller was at one time a member of the staff of the Field Museum of Natural History of Chicago. The President chose him on the advice of the scientific men at the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. He is 32 years old and has already won a national reputation as a zoologist.

It is an open secret that the President's gun will not only bring down the game for his party, but material for the Smithsonian Institution. Heller, Sam's scientific museum, and it will be Heller's task to classify and write up the specimens.

Adept in Field Work

Before he was graduated in 1901 from Leland Stanford university, Mr. Heller already had distinguished himself for his field work. He had made one trip to Alaska with the United States biological survey, another to the Galapagos Islands with Robert E. Snodgrass, and had done considerable field work in California and Death valley.

Very shortly after he left college, he was taken up by the Field Museum in Guatemala for that institution on an expedition after mammal life, just at the time that Carl E. Akeley, formerly the chief taxidermist at the Chicago museum, was about to start on his big expedition for Africa. At the eleventh hour it was decided that Heller should go along, too. A telegram to this effect was sent to him in Guatemala, and he caught up with Akeley in London.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Akeley, Vernon Shaw-Kennedy and Mr. Heller, who, it was understood, was to look after the scientific end of the expedition, and to tabulate the material when the expedition returned to Chicago. He was in the latter part of Africa six months.

Resignation Follows Friction

This was his biggest piece of work, but it was also his greatest disappointment, for when the party returned with what he said to have been the finest zoological collection ever taken out of Africa by a scientific expedition, friction developed within the zoological department of the Field Museum and Curator C. B. Cory practically shelved it. It is said, the fruits of the six months' work.

This was more than Mr. Heller could brook, and he resigned from the staff last spring in spite of considerable pressure which was brought to bear to retain him. His resignation followed that of Mr. Akeley. He is now attached to the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology at Berkeley, Cal.

HAVE TWO HOTELS AT NEW RAILWAY YARDS

Trainmen Now Have Choice of Two Hotels at Which to Eat and Sleep

The new hotel erected by the Janesville Improvement Association at South Janesville has been leased to the M. E. White company of Chicago for a number of years and they will furnish the building and equip it for use as a railroad hotel. This building has been standing idle for some time owing to the reluctance of the proprietors to lease it until a responsible party or firm could be found who would take charge of it. It will be run as a restaurant and hotel where the railroad men can get a meal or stop for the night. The company which has charge of it have charge of other railroad hotels. They are now running hotels on the Lake Shore, Great Western, Chicago & Alton and the Chicago & North-Western lines in other cities. They also have charge of camps of construction workers and also camps for mining companies.

A short distance below them Geo. Carle has opened a lunch counter and lodging-house which is called the Palace Hotel. His hotel was opened yesterday and judging from the business he does not feel discouraged. Last night he sold lunches to twenty-five or thirty railroad men and between eighteen and twenty of them remained there for the night. He thinks he can compete with the other hotels, as his rent is not so high and because he is well known by the railroad men. He is operator from four o'clock until midnight at the telegraph station at the new yards.

"HALF THE FLEET BLOWN AWAY."

Story Printed in China to Satisfy the Native Pride.

Peking, Nov. 12.—In order to satisfy the pride of the Chinese people, the official newspaper, controlled by Grand Councillor Yuan Shai Kai, explains the fact that only half the American battleship fleet visited Amoy by declaring that the fleet was dispersed by a storm on its way to the Chinese coast and the fate of the other eight vessels is unknown. FURS! FURS!

Our Fall Fur Sale Monday and Tuesday proved even greater than we anticipated. Some of the very nicest pieces were sold from our stock and many pieces were selected from the representative's line. We have now strengthened our line in every way and beyond question The Big Store offers to the public the largest and best assortment of furs to be found in Southern Wisconsin.

Mink Furs at All Prices

Included in this assortment are those of the lower price as well as the most expensive. In the Mink sets the popular prices range from $8.00 to $25.00 per set, but we show them up in the hundred dollar values.

Very Desirable Black Fox Furs

These furs resemble Lynx very closely. They are soft and fluffy, take a beautiful black dye and wear much better than Lynx. The prices range $20.00 to $35.00 per set and are meeting with ready sale. These sets come in either the rug muff with shawl scarf or plain muff and straight throw as desired.

An Endless Variety of Jap Mink

The assortment in this line is almost endless. The plain muffs with scarf to match, the rug muffs with shirred lining with shawl scarfs. The brown furs are very popular this year and this line will give you almost any choice you wish.

Lower Priced Furs—River Mink, Black and Brown Coney

These furs come in large shawl collars, scarfs, rug muffs and plain muffs. No matter how low the price, you will find merit—value received. Because a fur is priced low does not mean that it will not give good service. We pay just as much attention to buying furs that sell at lower figures as we do to the more expensive.

Blue Wolf

In this grade of Fur the prices range from $17.00 to $25.00. The sets match up very nicely. You will find a good choice in any style of set desired. The Blue Wolf takes the dye exceptionally well, and are most handsome, shading as they do from light blue to gray.

Storm Collars

Storm collars are coming in again after a rest of several years. These storm collars look well and are very good for wear. We have put in a complete line in the popular priced skins of dark and light colors, as well as Martin.

Fur Coats, Large Sizes Especially

Our re-order on large Fur Coats was larger than the original order and now.

We are better than ever able to fit women in fur coats, any size up to 40. The greater number of garments come in either Neaseal, brown Marmont and River Mink.

Black Coney Skin Coats

This line shows up exceptionally well. The skins are pretty and as fine as silk. The fit of these garments is simply perfect. We are enthusiastic over this line and the prices we are quoting make them values far better than you can buy elsewhere for the same money.

We have a good range in children's sets in Thibet, white and gray, white Angora and gray, and Little Lamb Skin sets.
